

GIRLS
in PARIS

DAY 1

Welcome to Paris! Your VIP airport assistant will whisk you through passport control & baggage claim to your private chauffeur. Transfer to your charming hotel in trendy Saint-Germain-des-Pres.

Unpack & get ready for fun in the heart of the City of Love.

Enjoy an afternoon in the Jardins du Luxembourg. Have dinner at a bustling bistro & see the sparkling lights of the Eiffel Tower from your boat ride on the Seine River.

*Sleep: Paris 4

DAY 2

Put on your most comfortable walking shoes because we have a full day planned for you!

Start your day with a private tour of the Louvre with Sorbonne graduate Margaux.

After, walk to L'Orangerie to see Monet's water lilies & have lunch in a quaint brasserie.

Next up, we're off to Rue Montorgueil to see the famed shops & stop for a cafe or perfume stop.

DAY 3

Private shopping with our local guide. If shopping is not your thing, we've got you covered with some chocolate & local delicacy tastings on the way. What's better than lingerie & chocolate?

Get dressed up for tonight. We have a special, Parisien dinner for you tonight.

A child's hand in a black and white polka-dot sleeve reaches towards a golden-brown croissant on a white plate. The croissant is on a dark napkin. Next to it is a white cup of coffee on a saucer with a red straw. To the left is a glass of orange juice with a metal straw and a glass of water with ice. The background shows a red and white striped chair and other people in a cafe setting.

The shocking story of croissants...

Croissants were first created by an Austrian baker living in Paris in the 1830's. The french went wild for these buttery crescents & they've been a staple of France ever since.

Did you know...

The chocolate croissant is actually called, "pain au chocolat", which means bread with chocolate.
